

Reading Spotlight

A message from Mrs. Ferrari and Mrs. VanDyke...

In an effort to make this web page worthwhile, we welcome comments, questions, and suggestions. Please contact us at sferrari@ncusd203.org or mvandyke@ncusd203.org.

Thank you and keep reading!

Wonderful Websites for Kids!

<http://pbskids.org/lions/games/> Here's a website especially designed for primary level students. Choose from a variety of games to reinforce early literacy skills. You'll find stories, games, things to print, songs, and lots of parent tips.

www.eduplace.com/kids/ is a Houghton Mifflin site contains kids' games and activities for math, reading, language arts, social studies, and more!

www.storiesfromtheweb.org/ On this site, children can write their own stories, poems or book reviews and hang them in the on-line gallery. Or, read a story from one of their favorite authors.

Library Links

www.lislelibrary.org

www.naperville-lib.org

Parent Resources

www.theschoolbell.com is a fabulous resource for parents, students, and teachers! This website was created by Kathy Gursky, a teacher in the Brentwood Union School District, who is currently teaching first grade.

At www.teachersandfamilies.com, you can find suggested books for every grade level. It also provides a "lifetime" reading list for parents and young adults.

www.parents-planet.com/literacytip.html provides parents/guardians with Weekly Literacy Tips, Online Literacy Resources, and a Children's Literature Resource. A comprehensive site!

Parent Tips

Read to and with your child, no matter what their age or yours.

Visit your local public library on a regular basis. Attend special programs and events, check out books and magazines.

Purchase books, magazine subscriptions, bookmarks, book lights or gift certificates to encourage a love of reading.

Read and relax daily.